TIRED LOOKING EYES?

What Can Be Done About It?

Your eyes are among the first features people notice. The skin around the eyes is thinner than other areas of the body and is often the first to show signs of aging. Make-up can only do so much to cover up those wrinkles and dark circles. Below are common problems and fixes for those tired, old eyes.

Problem: Wrinkles around the eyes,
Frown lines between the eyebrows

Solution: Botox or Dysport can relax crow's feet and eliminate frown lines.

Problem: Dark circles under eyes,
Volume loss under eyes

Solution: Restylane injectable dermal filler can replace lost volume under the eyes by "filling" in under eye hollows to lessen the appearance of dark circles.

Problem: Thinning lashes and eyebrows

Solution: Latisse applied every night will make your lashes grow longer, fuller and darker. Thinning eyebrows are a sign of aging so apply a little Latisse
to both eyelashes and eyebrows

Problem: Droopy and crepey eyelid skin

YOUNGER LOOKING EYES WITH BLEPHAROPLASTY

Drooping eyelid skin or crepey texture around the eyes is often due to excess skin that sags with time. When eyelids look puffy or droopy, this could make you look tired or sad.

Blepharoplasty, or an eyelid surgery, can reverse many of these unwanted changes. By removing small amounts of skin and fat, this procedure can restore your eyes to a more rested and youthful appearance. The procedure is performed under local anesthesia and mild sedation to make you feel relaxed. A small incision is made along the natural creases and folds of the eyelids so that the scar is hidden in the folds. The sutures stay in place for a week and after being removed, the upper lids are tighter with reduced puffiness.

A recent normal eye examination from your optometrist or ophthalmologist is needed to diagnose any pre-existing eye conditions such as "dry eyes." In addition, blood-thinning medications should be stopped 2 weeks prior to the procedure. Overall, this procedure is very safe but as with any procedure, there are potential risks that will be discussed during your consultation.

For a limited time, A $500 discount is being offered to eligible patients. To see if you are a candidate for this procedure, schedule an appointment with Dr. Joanna Chan today!

INSTANT FACIAL REJUVENATION WITH INJECTABLES

Injectable treatments are the simplest and fastest way to look younger, just in time for the upcoming holiday parties. We offer all available fillers and volumizers such as Radiesse, Juvederm, Restylane, Perlane and Sculptra. A consultation with one of our Dedicated Dermatologists will determine which injectables are best for you. Our Dermatologists will personally and safely administer all treatments in this office.

Below are common problematic areas that can be easily fixed with injectables.

Smile lines, also known as parentheses on your face or nasolabial folds

Downward droop at corners of mouth (marionette lines)

Chin Mental Crease

Pre-jowl sulcus
Loose jawline

Sagging cheeks and loss of volume

Folds, sunken areas, loss of facial volume and the downward droop that accompanies years of sun damage and aging

They say that your hands are the true tell-tale sign of your age as veins and volume loss make your hands appear skeletal. Injectables can instantly replenish volume to the back of your hands.

Those holiday party dresses most always have a low neckline, often displaying the sun damage and brown spots from aging. Fraxel Dual Laser can easily rejuvenate the skin on your neck and chest.
